ADL's Assistant National Director Kenneth Jacobson Will Speak at Sisterhood Program Meeting Tuesday, March 25

Kenneth Jacobson, assistant national director of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, will be Sisterhood's guest speaker at the organization's 1 P.M. program meeting on Tuesday, March 25. Mr. Jacobson represents the agency on substantive matters and is responsible for coordinating and supervising ADL's programmatic areas.

He is also director of the International Affairs Division of ADL which monitors and analyzes events affecting Jews in the Middle East, Europe and Latin America. This division has an office in Jerusalem to assess first-hand issues surrounding the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Mr. Jacobson will speak on: "The Critical Stage of Middle East Talks."

He joined the staff of ADL in 1972 as a member of the agency's Research and Evaluation Department. Five years later he was appointed director of Middle Eastern Affairs. In 1983, he received the Milton A. Senn Award for Professional Excellence. In 1988,

U.S. Senator Alfonse M. D'Amato Will Speak At Sherr Institute Lecture Monday, April 7

Park Avenue Synagogue is pleased and honored to announce that United States Senator Alfonse M. D'Amato will address our congregational community at 7:00 P.M. on Monday evening, April 7, 1997. This important event will be sponsored by the Sherr Institute of Adult Jewish Studies.

Alfonse M. D'Amato was first elected to the United States Senate on November 4, 1980. He brought to the Senate his commitment to fight for the people of New York and the energy, dedication and drive needed to win. In 1992, he won re-election to a third Senate term in a hard-fought campaign. He is the first United States Senator from New York of Italian descent.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, on August 1, 1937, Al D'Amato was raised on Long Island and still resides in Island Park. He graduated from Chaminade High School and worked his way through Syracuse University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and a law degree. He was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1962. He has four children and five grandchildren.

Al D'Amato is a forceful champion of New York's vital interests in the Senate as Chairman of the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs, and as a Member of the Committee on Finance. As Chairman of the Banking Committee, he has decisive impact on legislation affecting the nation's economy, including small business, housing, transportation, consumer credit, mortgage and commercial lending, the integrity of America's financial institutions, the securities, bond and commodities markets, as well as trade and export enhancement. His responsibilities reach from Main Street to Wall Street.

As a Member of the Finance Committee, Al D'Amato supports a middle class tax cut and believes that it is time to get government off our backs and the tax collector's hand out of our wallets. He supports the Balanced Budget Constitutional Amendment and is working with the leadership to help put this nation's financial house back in good order. He supports fair trade, seeking open markets abroad for U.S. products and strong U.S. enforcement against illegal and predatory trade practices by foreign firms.

On the Banking Committee, Al D'Amato is a leading critic of government policies and regulations that discourage banks from providing credit to small businesses and he has sponsored legislation to increase lending to this key sector. In a related effort, he is a strong advocate of legislation to channel funds from the private sector into our nation's inner cities, minority neighborhoods and other economically distressed and underserved areas.

He leads the fight against illegal drugs, successfully sponsoring legislation in 1988 to impose the death penalty on drug kingpins who kill, and in 1994 to impose the death penalty on drug kingpins for the sale of large amounts of illegal drugs. Al D'Amato serves as the Chairman of the International Narcotics Control Caucus. He supports criminal justice reform, seeking preventive detention after

It saddens me to have to report that our congregational trip to Israel, supposed to have taken place this month, had to be canceled because we did not have enough people for a group trip.

I know that there have been many issues — legitimate issues — that have been of concern to people who considered making the trip this year, ranging from the precarious political situation in Israel, and therefore, concern for the safety of family members, to the timing of the trip conflicting with other family events, the monetary pressures such a trip would place upon families who had not pre-

From the Rabbi's Desk

I figured this trip's expense into their yearly budget, and the preference of a smaller family trip over a larger group trip. These are obviously real concerns. But, it still saddens me to think that a congregation of 1500 families has trouble getting a group of 20-25 people to travel to Israel together.

It saddens me because I think that we are missing out on a unique community opportunity: to share together sacred time in a sacred place. Ask any teenager who has traveled to Israel with USY, Ramah, Nesiyab or any of the other groups. Ask them about Israel, what they saw, what they learned. But even more, ask them what was most meaningful about their experience. Most of them will probably tell you with great enthusiasm and a spark emanating from somewhere deep within their souls about the shared group moments, the group discussions about "Who is a Jew?" and other topics of Jewish concern. Such shared group moments not only make a sacred place all the more sacred, but create and cement relationships that last long after the trip has passed.

That is what a group experience is all about. That is what our community experience can be about. This synagogue has long felt that going to Israel is and should be part of an integrated Jewish identity. We are currently participating in the Gift of Israel program, a program which encourages Bar and Bat Mitzvah-aged children to visit Israel as part of a group sometime during their high school years. In honor of Rabbi Judah and Mrs. Hadassah Nadich's 50th Wedding Anniversary, we have created the Nadich Israel stipends, which will be given each year to a high school student enrolled in our Rabbi Judah Nadich High School to use towards the cost of a youth group trip to Israel. It's important that young people experience Israel, but it's equally important for adults to experience (or reexperience) Israel as well. We are committed to congregational trips to Israel, so we urge you to plan ahead. See what you can do to help make this trip a reality. This year at your Passover Sedarim when you say: "Leshannah Habaah Beyerushalayim," be thinking about joining us next March 1998. Please call me if you have any questions or suggestions. I look forward to hearing from you.

— Rabbi Elana Zaiman

Message From Rabbi Lincoln

Our congregation's children represent the vibrant future of the Jewish People. As a community, we are committed to nurturing our youngsters' educational and spiritual development – in the congregational school classroom, in the synagogue, and in the home. Together we are looking for new ways to welcome our children, and to engage their parents in the fabric of our congregational life.

We are proud of a new initiative, inaugurated by the clergy and the School Board this year, in which children will have the opportunity to meaningfully participate in our Main Sanctuary's Shabbat morning services. We have invited students in the Gimel, Daled, Hay and Vav classes to join us occasionally for a short time during their Shabbat morning studies. Our youngsters will enrich our own worship with their joyful presence as they sing the Ein Keloheinu or Adon Olam, go up to the Bima when the Ark is opened, or march with the Torah. More importantly, they will be forming life-long ties with the synagogue – through tefillah – that will enrich their own congregational affiliation as adults in the future.

In welcoming these youngest members of our congregation on Shabbat we will be affirming our dedication to the transmission of our Jewish heritage from generation to generation. Please join in welcoming our children on Shabbat so that together we can ensure Jewish spiritual continuity for the generations to come.

WEG to Sponsor Panel on Religious Pluralism in Israel Monday, March 24

Religious pluralism in Israel is a major issue facing Israeli and Diaspora Jews and has been receiving a great deal of press coverage lately. It is also presently the focus of significant attention within both the American Jewish community and in dialogue between the organized non-Orthodox aligned community and the Israeli government.

On Monday evening, March 24, the Women's Evening Group will sponsor a panel discussion on this important issue. A wide range of views will be represented.

The panel discussion will begin promptly at 7:30 P.M. Refreshments and time for socializing and discussion will take place both at 7 P.M. and after the panel discussion.

This highly informative event is open to all members of the Park Avenue Synagogue community. Plan to attend!

Purim Megillah Reading Saturday, March 22

The holiday of Purim begins on Saturday evening, March 22. After the 6:30 P.M. Minhah Service, the Reading of the Megillah will begin at 7 P.M. in the Main Sanctuary.

Everyone – young and old alike – is invited to come celebrate Purim! Dress the children in adorable costumes and come (kvell) look upon them with great pride! There will be hamantaschen for children of all ages!

At 6 P.M., the Poppy Seed Players will present a musical comedy for children 3 to 8 years of age.

The Megillah will also be read at the morning service at 9 A.M. on Sunday, March 23.

Purim Holiday Customs

It is traditional to do the following things on the holiday of Purim:

- Listen to the Reading of the Megillah recited in the synagogue on Saturday evening, March 22, beginning at 7 P.M. (with the Minhah Service at 6:30 P.M.)

- Send mishloach manot, sometimes referred to as shalach manot, a gift of at least two kinds of food to at least one person

- Give matanot l'evyonim, at least two gifts to two poor people (donations of food or money to the Park Avenue Synagogue Food Pantry or contributions to the Park Avenue Synagogue Welfare Fund or to the Committee for the Homeless & Community Outreach will fulfill this mitzvah.)

- Attend the 9 A.M. morning service and Megillah Reading on Sunday, March 23

- Enjoy a festive dinner late in the day of Purim on Sunday, March 23.

Hebrew Classes for the Jewish Home and Heart

If you're looking for a way to improve your Jewish home, sign up for one of Vivian Finkel's Thursday morning Hebrew classes. You will learn much more than how to read and understand Hebrew. Classes consist of a healthy portion of Shabbat prayer study, an authentic Vivian Finkel summary of the weekly portion, and a bit of conversation in preparation for that trip to Israel we all wish to take. We also manage to squeeze in some healthy kibitzing and discussions regarding important Jewish news.

Mrs. Finkel is our guru. Like Dan Gookin, the author of all the computer for dummies books, she answers our questions and enhances our understanding. We entered with different levels of knowledge and Hebrew abilities and we all learn something new each week. Our guru's perennial question is "did you learn something new today?" She also reminds us that God doesn't need to get closer to us, but that we need to get closer to God.

Most importantly, the class helps us to enrich our homes as we share or expand on what we have learned.

In my own home, we now discuss the weekly portion on Friday nights. Our Hanukkah celebration was greatly enriched as well. While sitting in Mrs. Finkel's class, I was inspired to do a Hanukkah quiz dinner on the first night of Hanukkah. It focused our dinner discussion on the holiday as well as other Jewish historical facts. And, as my oldest son (a 12 year old) mentioned afterward, "...that was our best Hanukkah celebration ever!" Jewish traditions took precedence and we reduced the emphasis on gifts.

We are presently on vacation as Mrs. Finkel spends her winter in Florida. But we look forward to resuming classes on April 3 as we prepare for Pesah. Call the Hebrew school office if you care to join us to enrich your Hebrew, Jewish home and heart.

MERCAZ, the Political Arm of Conservative Judaism in Israel, Prepares For Zionist Elections

The Zionist Congress of the World Zionist Organization, which meets once every 4 to 5 years, is the preeminent international assembly of the Jewish People. Decisions made at a Zionist Congress have important impact not only on Jewish life in Israel but throughout the Diaspora as well. Most importantly, it is here that the seats on the WZO's executive committee are allocated to the Zionist slate according to their number of delegates. At the next Congress, scheduled for December, 1997, there will be a delegation of over 150 American Jewish leaders out of a total count of close to 600 world delegates.

MERCAZ members are, consequently, urged to insure that their memberships are current and up-to-date for 1997. Contact MERCAZ, (212) 533-7800, ext. 2016, for membership information.
